Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN)

September 23, 2019

Donald Raines
Head of Nursing Staff
Shamus T. Knight Memorial Hospital
360 Camden Street
Reno, NV 89501

Dear Donald:

As a current medical student with a newly earned LPN certification, I would like to apply for the licensed practical nurse position at Shamus T. Knight Memorial Hospital. As I finish my bachelor's degree in nursing, I believe I have the book knowledge and classroom hours needed to be a perfect entry-level nurse candidate at your medical center.

According to the nursing job description, you are looking for an LPN capable of administering non-RN treatments, evaluating patient symptoms and reactions, and assisting the RN charge nurse in all aspects of general patient care. During my college studies and throughout my licensed practical nursing certification program, I learned about many medical topic clusters, including pharmacology, patient care, hygiene and nutrition, ambulatory care, and proficiency with EHRs.

I would love the opportunity to chat about the nursing unit's upcoming objectives and current roadblocks and show you how my friendly attitude, willingness to learn, and medical knowledge make me a top contender for the LPN position.

Sincerely,

Esmeralda Welch, LPN
